

Officer of the Month Award

Community Services Officer Ken Broughman received the 2009 May/June Officer of the Month Award from the Roanoke Chamber of Commerce.

Officer Broughman's communication skills and experience enabled him to diffuse a domestic situation in which a suicidal subject was threatening himself with a handgun.

Officer Broughman also observed a female subject in the residence at the time and was able to convince the subject to release the female.

Because of Officer's Broughman's skill and patience he was able to resolve the situation without injury to any of the parties involved.

